RinkNet Videographer Program 2011-12 Hockey Season

Overview

Over the past four years RinkNet has expanded into supplying videos for its customers. These videos typically are 15 to 30 minutes of editing footage of one specific player. The players that videos are done on are players that could be selected in an upcoming draft (NHL or junior) or are players of interest for another reason. As part of this program we are sending our own videographers to games where these players play to record raw action footage of them so that our staff can edit and post these videos.

Job Description

Each videographer will be responsible for:

- Use the RinkNet program to see what games and players need to be recorded.
- Arriving at game in advance to setup equipment and check for players.
- Record players game by following the player(s), not the puck (be sure that the player is always in your shot).
- Follow RinkNet specifications for camera location, zooming and shot framing.
- Submit tapes to the RinkNet office after the game (either drop off at office or mail)

Training

RinkNet will supply complete training via documentation and videos. Videographers will be expected to follow specific criteria in terms of what to tape, angles, zoom levels etc.

Compensation

Videographers will be paid on a per game basis. RinkNet will also pay all out of pocket expenses (travel, admission to game and mailing costs to send videos in). Videographers are expected to supply their own equipment (camera and tri-pod), however RinkNet has a program to help people who do not have the necessary equipment in the form of an advance and payroll deduction program.

How to Apply

Interested applicants should contact the RinkNet office to see if they are in need of a videographer in your area. If a position is open you may be hired to film a test game in your area using criteria and instructions that we will supply. If this first game is satisfactory we will assign you to future games. For further information, please contact our office.
